

STAFF CONDUCT AND DRESS

The School Board reaffirms one of the oldest beliefs in education: one of the best methods of instruction is that of setting a good example. The board expects that the entire staff will strive to set the kind of example for students that will serve them well in their own conduct and behavior and contribute toward a favorable school atmosphere.

In conduct, interpersonal relationships, and dress, teachers and other staff members should recognize that they are being continuously observed by students. Their actions and demeanor will be reflected in the conduct of the students.

It is of paramount importance that the employees of the King George County Schools set good examples in conduct, manners, dress, and grooming.

Employees are expected to wear appropriate dress for work.

The administration has the responsibility to notify individuals who are not complying with the dress code.
